

Warning: Trident Creatine Found to Contain Banned Substances

The supplement “Trident Creatine” from Rogue Nutrition has been analyzed by two laboratories and found to contain banned substances which are not listed on the label. Taking this supplement will result in a positive test and a violation of the NFL Policy on Performance Enhancing Substances. Do not take this supplement.

Please remember that as stated in the NFL Policy on Performance-Enhancing Substances: “Players are responsible for what is in their bodies.” If you test positive for a substance on the Policy’s prohibited list, your positive test will not be excused because it results from the use of a supplement.
