

NFL Career Experience Overview

ORGANIZATION & EXPERIENCE OVERVIEW

Next Legacy is a venture investment platform that invests directly into the most access-constrained, leading venture funds and early-stage companies. We cross-pollinate our diverse and unique community of philanthropists, athletes, cultural luminaries, founders, and other venture capitalists to learn from and alongside one another. We are committed to tapping venture capital for good and for the betterment of all.

Founded by an 8-year NFL veteran who grew up around the NFL community (father in HOF), Next Legacy was formed to give athletes a seat at the table in venture capital. Outside of finding the best investment opportunities, we commit our time and resources to providing opportunities to tap into our world of venture capital through large gatherings (The Bridge Summit), smaller events with Founders, Tech Tours/Venture Workshops, our two-week Fellowship program, and more. We capitalize on our sitting at the intersection of technology + venture + sports and are looking for individuals who want to learn not only about venture capital but also believe in our mission.

JOB DESCRIPTION/RESPONSIBILITIES

Exact schedule is subject to change and team availability, but you will experience a combination of learning (“VC101”) in addition to at least one project with each of our teams (Platform/Community, Fund Investments, Direct Investments, and Investor Relations). Responsibilities will include the following:

- Learning the players in the venture ecosystem and how a VC Fund works;
- Learning (at a high level) how we diligence investments;
- Working session with the Platform team: review current opportunities for athletes to engage with the Next Legacy community, how we manage our platform, and discuss strategic portfolio company support;
- Develop communication framework for Fellowship Program;
- Conduct and/or shadow due diligence of prospective companies and funds;
- Industry research;
- Attend any relevant meetings or events, if in person.

SCHEDULE OVERVIEW

Initially, we will hold larger group sessions for Partners to teach various aspects of the venture business. We will mix in individual assignments and research with larger group sessions and ensure that all candidates have exposure to the various elements of a venture firm. Note that the schedule is largely dependent on timing, duration, and location (virtual or in-person) of the program).

DESIRED SKILLS/QUALIFICATIONS

Desire to learn and passion for our mission is paramount. Candidates should be proactive thinkers and self-starters, able to move quickly yet impactfully between the various aspects of the firm given short time commitment. Given the potential of a remote experience, strong communication skills and the ability to remain engaged during both group sessions and independent tasks are imperative. Some experience in personal investing or interest in technology and/or venture capital is helpful but not required. Ultimately, this experience is a fit for those who are hungry to always learn more, unafraid to ask questions, enjoy thinking both independently and dependently, and believe in our mission.

Thank you for considering an externship with Next Legacy Partners. We value your time and commitment to furthering your knowledge and experiences in business and beyond. As a firm, we are dedicated to enhancing current and former athletes' lives, and we hope this opportunity not only better our firm but impacts you in your future endeavors.
