WHOOP®

2025 WHOOP Career Experience

For the one-week experience with our Product Analytics team, the participants will be introduced to key analytics stakeholders, including representatives from product management, UX design, and engineering. They will gain insight into how these cross-functional teams collaborate, make decisions, and prioritize work. The participant will learn basic SQL and also gain hands-on experience building their own WHOOP dashboard using Sigma, a BI tool. By the end of the week, they will walk away with a deeper understanding of how a company operates, as well as valuable technical skills in both SQL and BI tools.
