

WHOOP

Our mission at WHOOP is to unlock human performance. We believe that every individual has an inner potential that can be enhanced through continuous monitoring. As such we've built a system across hardware, software, and analytics designed to collect and analyze the most important data on the human body. Today, WHOOP is fortunate to monitor professional athletes, the military, aspirational fitness enthusiasts, Fortune 500 CEOs, executives, doctors, construction workers, and more. The common theme across our population? The desire to improve and perform at a higher level.

Talent Acquisition Externship Experience

Take a deep dive into what it takes to grow the talented team at WHOOP! The WHOOP Talent team will walk you through every step of the WHOOP hiring process i.e. how to draft persuasive outreach for sourcing candidates for a role, build interview process, interview candidates and close offers to join the company.

In addition to learning the ropes of recruiting, you will also be set up with stakeholders across the organization at WHOOP from areas of the company like Software, Finance, Data Science, Analytics, and Management to deeply understand the inner workings of WHOOP.
